DANIEL ADMIRES

PARKER'S LETTER

PARKER'S LETTER

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

INNCHBURG, VA., Sept. 27,—United States Senator John W. Daniel to-day gave out the followin,; statement concerning the letter of acceptance promulgated on Monday by Judge Parker: The letter of Judge Parker is a State paper of high order and will rank with the foremost utterances of our great leaders. It is compact with food for reflection and its ideas are see clearly and tersely stated that they appear before the reader as self-evident truths. It is full of that noble cloquence that comes from clear light and deep conviction and an earnest sense of duty.

No thoughtful man can read that letter without forming a high opinion of the individual and moral force of the writer; nor without realizing that it is a courageous, honest and well-balanced statesman, not a demogogue, who speaks.

I hope the letter will go into every American home. The election of such a man to the presidency would uplift every American ideal, strengthen the ties of citizenship and promote every substantial interest of the American people that thrive in obedience to law.

JACKSON, MISS., Sept. 27.—Thos. Watson. of Georgia, candidate on the Populist ticket for the Presidency, made a campaign speech before a small audence here to-day. Mr. Watson said the Populist movement was on its feel again and that it would continue before the American people until it was triumphant. He said that there was no difference between Roosevelt and Parker, there being but one disagreement, that on the pension order. He said that it was a matter of indifference to him whether the Populists were hurting the Democratic or the Republican party the most, explaining that the reason he devoted most of his attention to the Democrats of the South, because it was from this party he expected to poll votes. Mr. Watson finished his letter of acceptance while in the city and left to-night for Birmingham.

BOSTON, MASS, Sept. 27.—The leading political parties selected many of their congressional, county and legislative candidates for the November election to-day in caucase held jointly in twenty-two cities and two towns, where the Luco joint cours law is in force.

Busene N. Foss, the leading reciprocity advocate of the State, won a sharp contest with three other Republican candidates in the Eleventh District, defeating Stephen O'Meara, formerly editor of the Boston Journal, his nearest competitor, by 724 votes. Foss will be again opposed by Congressman John A. Sullivan, who was renominated by the Democrats without the proposition.

MADISON, WIS., Sept. 27—No decision was handed down by the Supreme Court to-day as to which of the two Republican factions is entitled to place its nominees on the State ticket at the November election. One faction, known as the "half-breeds," is headed by Governor LaFolette. The other is headed by Governor LaFolette. This is known as the "stalwart" faction. The stalwarts have asked the Supreme Court to enjoin the Secretary of State from placing the mames of the LaFolette nominees on the ticket.

ST. LOUIS, MO. Sept. 27.—The South-ern Cotton Growers' Association held the concluding session of its convention to-day. With a view to maintaining a concluding session of its convention today. With a view to maintaining a stable market and fair prices for the pottion crop of the South, the Association adopted the plan of rganizing a corporation to be composed of the cotton growers, the business men and the bankers of the cotton-growing States, which corporation should build warehouses wherever feasible for the purpose of storing the product and preventing a glut of the market. The plan adopted is what is known as the Waco Plan.

The Association has also adopted a resolution requesting cotton growers to withhold from the market all cotton of the middling grade unless ten cents a pound can be secured for it. Alse, that the cotton crop be remarketed as slowly as possible during the months of October and Tobacco Stamp Row a Thorn in the Republican Side.

(Special to The Times-Diagatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.—No deision has as yet been reached by the Treasury Department in the stamp row over imported cigars and the impression seems to be gaining ground that for poli-tical reasons, there will be "nothing dolical reasons, there will be "nothing doing" in this case until after election. The Treasury Department, as well as the executive offices of the White House, are being haunted during business hours nowadays by agents and attorneys of the independent tobacco concerns, who are growing more and more uneasy as developments in this now interesting controversy are delayed. They make no concealment of their belief that the whole matter is being intentionally kept in abeyance for the present for a purpose, though they profess to be sure that the legal point involved will be decided untimately in their favor. Meanwhile, however, they say, the decision will be passed about from one officer of the legal department to another, until election time when it will finally come officially before the Secretary of the Treasury. This seems to be the only solution of the predicament into which the administration has unwillingly placed itself, for should a decision now be rendered in favor of the trust, which is a large contributor to the Republican campaign fund, it would offend the independents, while per contra if the ruling of Secretary Armstrong is upheld the Administration will lose the trust's support. ing" in this case until after election. When it came down to a vote, however, Mr. Hannahan carried the convention by a large majority.

In regard to the recent edict of the Pope relating to the music obtaining in the churches at present and the women choristers, a prominent Catholic priest of Richmond said yesterday that no immediate steps would be taken in the Seghern diocese.

Movements had already been taken befor the issues of the decree to eliminate all light and operatic music from the Richmond churches. The Gregorian chant, of ancient and well-established usage, provails to a large degree and there is little tendency here to oust it from its long established position.

In reference to the women choristers, the priest said that American conditions differ widely from those prevailing in Europe, especially in the Southern portion. In American churches, he said, the choirs are not choirs in the strict sense of the term, but in reality form part of the general congregation. Now it is the Pope's express wish that the congregation take an citye part in the singing and so his recent decree does not affect women in American choirs as they may be taken as forming part of the congregation take an active part in the choirs have official connection with the sense of the term, but in reality form part of the general congregation. Now it is the Pope's express wish that the congregation take an crive part in the singing and so his recent docree does not affect women in American choirs as they may be taken as forming part of the congregation take an active part in the choirs have official connection with the church and are separate from the general body of the congregation. Moreover, the muslo in general use is not Gregorian, but is distinctly modern and of a light, operatic order. It is chiefly against this that the Pope issued his recent edict and hence the decree will not materially affect conditions now prevailing in the Southern diocese of the Catholic church, at least not at present.
